

Modern mandrel technology:

Our state of the art mandrels combine the best of everything: The optimized weight meets the dynamics of your main arm, reduces stress on various components and thereby increases the overall lifetime. Depending on the core type, a cycle optimization by sequence change is possible. Our 3D printed mandrels need less maintenance than the old mat mandrels and can make the use of brush stations unnecessary.

